Event No. : 1

Date : 05.07.2025

Event Name : Participation in NPTEL Workshop

The NPTEL Workshop was conducted at the Terrace Hall, IIT Madras, Chennai, on July 5, 2025, hosted by IIT Madras. This workshop brought together SPOCs (Single Point of Contact) from the South Zone states—Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, and Puducherry. The session highlighted the pivotal role of NPTEL as one of the nine national coordinators of the SWAYAM initiative.

Dr. K. Shalini, Assistant Professor, PG & Research Department of Statistics, Salem Sowdeswari College (For Women), attended the workshop representing the college as the SPOC for the SWAYAM Club. The workshop focused on reviewing the performance of the previous semester and exploring strategies to strengthen online learning through policy upgrades and enhanced course delivery on the SWAYAM platform.

Key Takeaways from the Workshop

- Emphasis on increasing student enrollment and meaningful participation in SWAYAM courses
- Providing continuous guidance to help learners choose courses suited to their interests and academic goals
- Recognition system for mentors based on student achievements in SWAYAM exams
- Establishment of a monitoring mechanism to track faculty participation in SWAYAM courses across departments.
- The SWAYAM course catalogue (July – December 2025) distributed at the workshop has been displayed on the college notice board for student reference

Event No. : 2

Date : 07.07.2025

Event Name : Orientation Programme on SWAYAM and NDLI Club

The Orientation Programme on SWAYAM and the NDLI (National Digital Library of India) Club was organized in our institution on 07.07.2025 for first-year students to help them understand the importance of digital learning platforms and academic resources at the beginning of their academic journey. The programme began with a welcome address that emphasized the growing role of technology in education and encouraged the students to develop self-learning habits from their first year itself. The resource person, Dr. K. Shalini, delivered an engaging and informative session in which she described SWAYAM as a valuable national platform that offers free online courses designed by premier institutions. She explained that students can learn at their own pace through video lectures, study materials, assignments, and discussion forums, and can also obtain certificates to strengthen their academic profile. She stressed that enrolling in such courses from the first year would help students build strong subject knowledge, confidence, and better career prospects.

She then introduced the NDLI platform and explained that it provides access to a vast collection of digital resources such as books, journals, articles, theses, and educational videos useful for study and research. She demonstrated how first-year students can register, search for materials using filters, and effectively use these resources for assignments, competitive exam preparation, and project work. Dr. K. Shalini encouraged the students to actively participate in NDLI Club activities such as reading sessions, quizzes, and academic discussions, pointing out that early involvement would develop reading habits, research skills, and digital literacy. During the interactive session, she patiently clarified students' doubts about course enrollment, certification, duration, and the practical use of online platforms, and motivated them to make regular use of these tools for continuous learning. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks, and the first-year participants expressed that the session was highly useful, practical, and inspiring, as it gave them clear guidance on how to make the best use of digital learning opportunities throughout their academic journey.

Event No. : 3

Date : 28.07.2025

Event Name : Click.Learn.Grow: Lifelong Learning via SWAYAM and NDLI

In the rapidly evolving digital era, continuous learning has become essential for personal and professional growth. The philosophy of “Click. Learn. Grow” emphasizes the convenience and significance of online learning platforms in fostering lifelong education. India has taken remarkable steps in this direction through national e-learning initiatives such as SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active-Learning for Young Aspiring Minds) and the National Digital Library of India (NDLI). These platforms democratize access to high-quality learning resources and empower students, educators, and self-learners to upgrade their knowledge anytime, anywhere.

The SWAYAM Club of Salem Sowdeswari College (For Women), Salem – 10, organized an informative workshop titled “Click. Learn. Grow: Lifelong Learning via SWAYAM and NDLI” on 28th July 2025 at 10:30 AM in the Seminar Hall. The objective of this program was to create awareness among students about the importance of lifelong learning and to introduce them to the vast e-learning opportunities available through the SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active-Learning for Young Aspiring Minds) platform and the National Digital Library of India (NDLI).

The program began with the Tamil Thai Vazhthu, followed by a cordial welcome address delivered by K. L. Jayaroshini, II-M.Sc., Statistics. She highlighted the relevance of online learning in today's educational environment and emphasized how these platforms democratize education by making high-quality learning materials available at no cost to all learners. The session was presided over by Shri. J. K. A. Kumararajah, the Correspondent, Secretary & Managing Trustee of the college.

Mr. S. Kumar, Faculty-in-Charge (SFCW), also felicitated the gathering and stressed on the need for technological literacy among students in the digital age. He encouraged students to make proactive use of government-supported learning portals to broaden their academic horizons.

The resource person, Mr. S. Muralikrishnan, M.Sc., B.Ed., M.LISc., M.Phil., Ph.D., Librarian, Central Law College, Salem, was then introduced by Ms. S. R. Priyanka, III B.A., English. She briefly explained his academic contributions and expertise in digital learning environments.

In his keynote session, Mr. S. Muralikrishnan delivered an insightful presentation on the theme. He explained the role of SWAYAM, an initiative by the Government of India offering free online courses from school level to postgraduate programs from reputed institutions like IITs, IIMs, and Central Universities. He demonstrated the registration and course-access process and highlighted credit transfer benefits under the UGC guidelines.

He also elaborated on the features of NDLI, a national digital repository hosting millions of educational resources including books, journals, research papers, e-books, question banks, and more. The demonstration enabled students to understand how to search, filter, and download academic resources effectively.

Dr. Muralikrishnan emphasized how SWAYAM and NDLI help in bridging the knowledge gap, improving self-learning abilities, and strengthening academic and career competencies. He shared practical tips on gaining certifications, attending MOOCs, and using digital libraries for research and project purposes. The participants actively interacted with the resource person and clarified their queries regarding online learning platforms, open educational resources, and digital academic tools.

The program witnessed enthusiastic participation from students who expressed keen interest in exploring self-paced learning modules. They appreciated the institution's efforts in exposing them to emerging educational modes and technological tools essential for advanced learning and professional preparation.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms. R. Priyadarshini, III B.Sc., Chemistry, who expressed gratitude to the Correspondent, Principal, resource person, faculty members, and the SWAYAM Club for organizing the valuable workshop. She also extended thanks to the student coordinators and participants for making the event productive and meaningful. The program ended with the National Anthem.

The workshop proved to be a highly enriching experience, igniting curiosity among learners about online learning platforms and encouraging them to adopt lifelong learning practices. This initiative reflected the college's commitment to academic excellence, digital empowerment, and holistic student development.
